Dear ParentChild+ sites,

Happy May! It is hard to believe that it is almost Memorial Day weekend, the school year is winding down, the 2024 Annual Conference is over, and graduations and summer are just about here. We hope you are all looking forward to some great outdoor and family time this summer, and we hope that you are starting to think about traveling to DC for the 2025 annual conference! We cannot wait to see you in person!

As always, please reach out if you have questions, need information, and/or just want to update us on what you are up to. We want to share your successes, your stories, your moments of joy, so please send stories, quotes, and/or photos to our Development and Communications Coordinator, Ricardo Abreu. For today's moment of joy, scroll down for some wonderful pictures!

Stay safe and be well!
- The national center team

REMINDER: Updated Ratio Guidance for both the 1:1 Family + HBCC Home Visiting Models

These guidelines establish a general range of hours and caseloads that each Early Learning Specialist may carry when implementing either model or both models together. This document aims to address the number of administrative/travel hours in relationship to a caseload of families and/or providers. Coordinators can work within these guidelines as a general framework.

Please find the updated guidance here. Please stay tuned for more information - we plan to discuss these ratios and answer any questions you may have at your next state director meeting.

REMINDER: L4G Satisfaction Survey Update from Research Team

Thank you to for those who participated in our one-on-one model satisfaction survey. We have a few more documents to share. Here is the full report in English and Spanish. We have also produced a shorter version of the report in English and Spanish. We encourage you to share this two-page report with the families and communities you work with especially those who participated in the one-on-one survey. You can also use the material for recruitment.

As a reminder, we are currently collecting satisfaction surveys from providers and families in the HBCC model. You should have received an email from You

Zhou about the survey information.

If you have any question, please reach out to You Zhou.
