Devereux Center for Resilient Children
Contact: Rudee Abello - Rudee.Abello@devereux.org.
We strive to promote social and emotional development and foster resilience in young children (birth through 5) and in adults caring for them. We offer resources and professional development options for all those working in the early childhood field.
For those working with parents and families of young children, check out our parenting curriculum, Your Journey Together (YJT). With this research-based, trauma-informed curriculum, you can support parents and families in addressing life's challenges and reaching their full potential. Learn more at www.yourjourneytogether.org!
